Agenda Item 5: Pineland Prairie in Martin County – Presentation by Marcela Camblor-Cutsaimanis, Principal, Marcela Camblor & Associates, Inc.

Ms. Camblor-Cutsaimanis provided Council with an overview of the history, process, and concepts that led to the creation of the Pineland Prairie project. The proposed project is a 3,411-acre site located adjacent to the northern boundary of western Martin County and consists of 4,200 dwelling units; 290,000 square feet of commercial; 2 million square feet of industrial; 3 schools; 150 acres of agriculture; recreation areas; and 2,400 acres of public open space and preserved natural areas.

Ms. Camblor-Cutsaimanis noted that the development of the project was a three-fold effort of extensive public outreach; a unique comprehensive plan amendment and development of a new land use designation, Planned Mixed Use Village (PMUV); and the use of form-based codes. She noted there was unprecedented public outreach because the land owner/developer, Knight Kiplinger, wanted to include all stakeholders in the process in order to promote education of the project, ensure open communication, and build trust. Conscious effort was made to engage the entire community by including groups that do not normally come to public hearings and going out to the stakeholders with presentations. She commended the Guardians of Martin County for their contributions to the process. Ms. Camblor-Cutsaimanis indicated that the project proposes to develop only 30 percent of the land as a new mixed-use compact village, with 2,400 acres being designated in perpetuity as public open space. She also noted that the project includes connected streets without gates, schools and a plan to improve the water quality of the adjacent...
C-23 Canal by diverting water from the canal, cleaning it through a system of marshes, temporarily retaining the water during times of heavy rain or higher discharges, and then releasing the cleaner water back into the canal at the appropriate time. She noted that the project has received much support and thanked all the stakeholders involved for helping to design a project that is not only an asset to Martin County, but to the entire region.

Councilmember Davis, Gubernatorial Appointee from Palm Beach County, asked if there is an opportunity to do some restoration of some of the land that is being preserved that has been set aside for preservation. Ms. Camblor-Cutsaimanis noted that most of the land that is marked for preservation is pristine and has never been touched. She stated the proposed village will be located on former farm land.

Commissioner Dzadovsky from St. Lucie County noted he has been pushing for his county to update their land development codes and he is glad to see the bar is being raised around the region. He stated he appreciates the component of the plan that will improve the water quality of the C-23 Canal, noting they are planning to do this on the McCarty Ranch property in the City of Port St. Lucie.

Mayor Gerwig from the Village of Wellington asked how many acres are planned for stormwater infrastructure. Ms. Camblor-Cutsaimanis indicated approximately 150 acres.

Councilmember Lowe, Gubernatorial Appointee from St. Lucie County, asked if the project will be done in phases. Ms. Camblor-Cutsaimanis indicated yes and that the first phase will include recreational features, a small retail component, some of the workplace uses, and a substantial amount of residential units to support those uses. Councilmember Lowe asked if transit options are included in the plan. She noted that the way the densities are laid out this will be a transit-ready community at buildout.

Councilman Carvelli from the City of Port St. Lucie noted his city has been very proactive and has dedicated 2,200 acres in the western area of the city for addressing water quality.

Councilman Hmara from the Village of Royal Palm Beach noted that in Palm Beach County they are struggling with land use and how to move people around. He noted that a lot of the cities are built out and do not have a blank canvas on which to plan. He asked how this type of development could be done in some of these communities. Ms. Camblor-Cutsaimanis noted that Council has done extensive research and has a lot of information on infill and redevelopment opportunities. She stated doing that type of planning is almost surgical, requiring a lot of time and community outreach. Councilman Hmara noted that it is difficult to convince people that more density can be good. Ms. Camblor-Cutsaimanis noted that when first working on this project they worked backward by looking at what they wanted the project to be and then determining how many units could be supported.

Commissioner O'Bryan from Indian River County cautioned that soil testing will need to be done in the proposed C-23 treatment area to ensure the soil is not contaminated from past agricultural uses. He also asked that when creating the different preservation enclaves consideration be given to creating wildlife corridors. He stated the project is very nice and there will be high demand. He asked how they plan to keep the project affordable. Ms. Camblor-Cutsaimanis noted that the project includes rental units and they are considering recruitment programs that will assist occupations such as teachers, police, and fire personnel with affordable housing options.

Commissioner Smith stated that the entire experience has been amazing for the County and doing a single comprehensive plan element such as this project has done could be the future of how we do development. He stated this may not be a perfect project for everyone, but he believes it is a comprehensive, well-laid out project.

Commissioner Berger from Palm Beach County asked if this project will be in the unincorporated area of the county, noting in her County the Westlake project eventually resulted in incorporation of a new City. Commissioner Smith stated the project will remain in the unincorporated area and the developer has not asked for anything else. Commissioner Berger asked how they will ensure the conservation land will remain in perpetuity. Ms. Camblor-Cutsaimanis noted that the Pineland Prairie project has written into the code that the natural lands will be stripped of all development rights, open-space easements will be placed on the land that will serve as legally binding deed restrictions, and they are continuing to explore other approaches in addition.

Councilmember Whitfield, Gubernatorial Appointee from Palm Beach County, indicated that communities are currently leaning toward K-8 schools. She noted the plan aims for high walkability, but she cautioned there needs to be consideration for how they will handle stacking cars during the times parents will be dropping off and picking up their children.

Chair Adams thanked Ms. Camblor-Cutsaimanis for her presentation.
